Hi 2nd and 3rd Period,

I hope you have had a good week and you are staying healthy. I so miss your faces and your voices! We are still learning about communication, which to me is interesting because we are all having to learn about new ways to communicate during this time in history. We are learning through experience some of the positives and negatives of the different types of communications. I am not sure about you, but I miss interpersonal, face to face communication. I think we may all appreciate that more after this. Take care and hope to see you soon using interpersonal communication.

TTYL,
Wanda Anderson RN

Objectives

Objective / I Can:

- Identify and define the 4 basic forms of communication in the workplace.
- Understand the benefits and disadvantages of some of these types of communication in the workplace
- Demonstrate the function of communication types using examples
- Begin to understand how important non-verbal communication is in our daily lives

Activities

Student Activities: Watch the YouTube video as a launching pad for learning the 4 different types of communication. Please note, that this video is “geared” for the workplace and management but, the principals are the same. Whenever, there is a reference to a manager or employee, you should think of this in terms of health care workers or patients, depending on the context. One of the abilities to learn is to be able to take concepts from one learning experience and apply them to another, so with this video we will get a chance to do this. There is a worksheet that you can turn in for a grade. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7BIYJVr7M2U>
